

Artifact: Research Essay: Online Dating

Course: English 152

Goal: Information Literacy

In Composition 2 (ENG 152), I wrote a research essay on how online dating culture has changed over the years and how it affects users. I used the MCC database to find almost all my sources and took time to make sure the sources were reliable. My sources were written recently within the past two year and well-known sources like Psychology today and the American Psychology Association. I used my knowledge of Information Literacy to inform the reader using reliable facts and information.
