

Artifact: Research Paper

Course: PSY-271: Educational Psychology

Goal: Information Literacy

This paper was an assignment for PSY-271: Educational Psychology. The assignment was to choose a specific socioeconomic group and discuss specific things you need to be aware of as a classroom teacher regarding that group, as well as how you would address those concerns. I accessed several sources for this assignment, making sure that they were accurate and qualified sources of information. I also provided references for my sources, both in-text and in a reference section.

ΦΦK Tips

Strengths:

- The writer utilized multiple academic sources
- The writer successfully integrated information from sources into the assignment
- The writer applied source information to recommend real-world advice for classroom teachers

Opportunities:

- The writer could have used more sources in their assignment
- Sources could be more current